FLYING KNIGHTS

PLANES IN WARTIME

A 4x52' series
by Serge Tignères

HISTOIRE

ilabs.

In less than fifty years, aviation went from flying objects made of wood and fabric to weapons of war! Who were the first fighter pilots in history? How did their planes evolve during the two world wars? Embark on a journey of technological advances, foolish bets, courage and sacrifice. More than a simple history of aviation, this series in four episodes will tell the story of the FLYING KNIGHTS, aviators without whom machines would remain inanimate objects, deprived of sky...

They conquered the skies and changed the course of history

- The stories of soldiers and civilians, legendary and anonymous, men and women, from around the world.
- Testimonies of today's famous pilots sharing their own memories and experiences of flying.
- A gripping epic in the tradition of the War wreck and Tank tech series
- Breathtaking sequences of 20 mythical aircraft of the first and second world war, made by the greatest experts in the world of aviation.
- CGI/3D modeling for a more immersive experience, a view from inside the cockpits.
- Additional 12x3' shorts for social media.
