EPISODIC BREAKDOWN

1. Bourbon

Join us on Kentucky's Bourbon Trail for the best of this original American spirit. Still largely made by hand, with secret recipes passed down through generations, this episode takes viewers inside Buffalo Trace's award-winning distillery to learn exactly how the world's best bourbon is made.

2. Luxury RV's

We go behind the scenes of the Florida RV SuperShow, the biggest RV show in America, for an inside look at the most extravagant, multimillion-dollar motor coaches, including an exclusive tour of Will Smith's opulent motor home.

3. Motorcycles

For millions of people throughout America, motorcycles symbolize freedom and individuality. In this episode, How the Best is Done joins hundreds of thousands of riders at Bike Week in Daytona, watches magazine editors test drive new models, and tracks down the best custom bikes built for the open road today.

4. Super Yachts

The ultimate luxury, yachts are fabulous mansions on the sea. This episode goes to the world's leading builder of super yachts, Trinity Yachts, to understand the yacht-building process, and then heads out to sea on one of them.

5. Chocolate

The ancient Aztecs used cacao beans as currency; today, modern science has found numerous health benefits from dark chocolate. Viewers will learn the history, mystery and chemistry of chocolate, as well as how to taste and make it in this decadent episode.

6. Hot Sauce

The Deep South holds the secret to the fiercest of condiments: hot sauce. Viewers looking for a little spice in their lives tune in for a visit to the Cajun Hot Sauce Festival, as well as a trip to Avery Island to track the source of the heat.

7. Golf Courses

From the initial design and construction to the finished course, landscape architects, computer designers, construction workers and golf pros offer an in-depth lesson how the world's very best golf courses are conceptualized and built. This episode includes an interview with legendary professional golfer Jack Nicklaus, who now designs golf courses.

8. Barbecue

The World Championship of Barbecue (AKA the Superbowl of Swine) is the biggest barbecue competition in the world, drawing thousands of people who go hog wild, spending thousands of dollars to prove their stuff is the best.

9. Baseball Bats

From the depths of the forest to the batter's box, this episode explores the care and precision that Louisville Slugger puts into the production of a professional baseball bat.

10. Tuner Cars

Some people customize the look or the sound, while others push them to new performance limits. In this episode, viewers get an inside look at what's under the hood of today's hottest tuner cars, which run from the sublime to the meticulous.

11. Aquariums

Dive into the world's largest aquarium and check out ultimate high-end custom tanks. From the most extensive life support systems to the biggest fish in the world, it's the best aquariums on land or sea.
