

Sinbad: It's Just Family

6 X 1 HOUR

EPISODIC BREAKDOWN

1. A Place For My Stuff

After their divorce, Sinbad and his wife Meredith get back together. Their two kids, who were living at Sinbad's now repossessed guesthouse, are coming, too. But everyone's patience will be tested by this new living arrangement.

2. Hole in My Pocket

Dealing with the pressure of supporting his family, issues with the IRS, and constantly having to work, Sinbad and the family realise it's time to tighten their financial belts. To help free up some space and make a little cash on the side, they hold a yard sale where Paige sells a dinner with Sinbad to a strange couple.

3. The Health

After a visit from the doctor, Sinbad decides to adopt a healthier lifestyle. Struggling to get his blood pressure to an acceptable level, the family puts Sinbad through rigorous paces. Meanwhile, Meredith and Paige do the master cleanse.

4. Can't Leave My House

With the house falling apart, Sinbad is forced to pour money into repairs. While Meredith is running errands, Paige is apartment-hunting, and Royce is turning the guest house into a studio, Sinbad is stuck at home, dealing with a parade of handymen.

5. Cookoff

After some housecleaning, Sinbad feels nostalgic for the family get-togethers of yesteryear. As the family prepares to throw a cookout, Sinbad and Royce encounter a snake in the pool room, while Meredith and Paige have a bake-off.

6. Cabin Fever

Frustrated with their routines and feeling cramped inside the house, the family decides to take a flying trapeze class. Meanwhile, Meredith discovers the joys of the gun range, and Sinbad develops a new on-stage musical persona.
