

off the fence.

Money. Power. Respect.

6 x 60'

EPISODIC BREAKDOWN

1. Opening Arguments

Six fierce female entertainment attorneys unite in New York City as they fight to get the Money, Power and Respect they desire. But drama ignites when their professional and personal lives collide. Counsel Kelly Shapiro ditches her boyfriend in LA while good friend and attorney Nakia Thomas comes on board to elevate her passion for fashion. Meanwhile, battle lines are drawn between trial attorney Dana Whitfield and husband Lord Jamar when Dana decides to transition to artist management. Dana invites entertainment attorney Tiffany Ballard to scout for new artists, but they clash in their styles and approaches. As the women strive to get to the top in the hip hop music industry, entertainment attorney Wendy Credle hustles to get her son to the top of his collegiate career as she struggles to pay for a prestigious college. During a photoshoot for one of Wendy's celeb clients, intellectual property attorney Kendell Kelly is shocked to her core when she receives a mysterious phone call from a woman claiming that she has been having an affair with her live-in boyfriend!

2. The Mistress is my Witness

After a shocking call from another woman, Kendell uses the tricks of her legal training to crack her boyfriend's affair wide open. Drama hits the fan when Kendell ambushes her unfaithful man with his mistress! The women jet to Jamaica for a business conference and plan to have a little bit of fun while they are there. But when Kendell breaks down over her boyfriend's betrayal, the claws come out. Nakia, friend of Kendell's ex, judges Kendell for mixing her emotions with business. Kelly uses Kendell's vulnerability against her when she meets with the respected entertainment attorney Ed Woods and throws Kendell under the bus.. Kelly's plan backfires when Ed spills the tea to Kendell.

3. Till Death Do Us Manage

A party in Jamaica takes an unexpected turn when Kendell finds out Kelly threw her under the bus; they go head-to-head and group unity is threatened. The feud continues back in NY when Ed forces Kendell and Kelly to work together on an important fashion project. Dana struggles to find an artist to manage that will meet with her husband Lord Jamar's approval, and is embarrassed when one of her musical "finds" delivers a shoddy performance at a new artist showcase. Wendy's family friend looks to her for help after a run-in with the cops and subsequent arrest. Wendy calls a group meeting to get the whole team on board for a project but strong minds clash and everyone is shocked when Ed Woods goes on a tirade and storms out. All hell breaks loose when business gets personal--Tiffany makes a play for Dana's client, Shaun Doe!

4. Judging Wendy

Dana scopes out new talent to add to her management roster at her annual empowerment brunch while she continues to clash with Dana over doing business with her former client, Shaun Doe. Business continues to get personal when Kendell meets with Ed to knock Kelly off the Brent Zachary project. And when Ed doesn't see eye-to-eye, Kendell takes matters into her own hands to have business work in her favor. But when it's time to meet with the client, will her plans backfire? Dana meets with her niece Armani in the studio, who outshined the other talent that performed at her brunch. But will her husband Lord Jamar take over? Drama ensues over Wendy's constitutional rights PSA. Nakia spills the tea to Dana about Wendy not wanting Lord Jamar on the PSA. Meanwhile, Ed meets with close colleague and TV personality, Judge Mathis who reveals shocking news- unbeknownst to Ed, Wendy has called on the judge for the PSA. Tension ignites at Wendy's next PSA meeting when Nakia challenges Judge Mathis and Ed steps aside from the project. Hoping to keep the peace within 'the dream team,' the women meet for dinner. But when Kelly continues to grind Kendell's gears and Dana and Tiffany's feud reignites - it's war!

5. Breach of Contract

A fun dinner event is ruined when Tiffany and Dana continue to clash over client Shaun Doe. After blowing up at two PSA meetings, Ed confronts Wendy, but when his professionalism is put into question, will he storm out for a third time? Wendy announces everyone's part in the PSA and chooses the legendary rapper that will be center stage of the production but tension ignites when Dana's husband, Lord Jamar, is not considered relevant enough to take part. Kelly eavesdrops and hears that Wendy will be setting Kendell up with Grammy nominated artist and tech innovator, Ryan Leslie-a client Kelly is eager to meet. Kendell is blindsided when a devious Kelly and Nakia ambush her meeting with Ryan Leslie in the office. Tiffany invites Kendell to watch her promote a client at XM Sirius Radio but makes it clear that she will not be inviting Dana. When Kendell tries to get Tiffany and Dana to reconcile their differences and invites Dana to come along, bad blood reemerges...

6. Closing Arguments

Wendy prepares for her PSA, hoping the shoot will be orderly but it turns out to be anything but. Dana meets with Reggie Ossé, Host of "The Combat Jack Show," to get career advice. And when he presents Dana with a recording from rapper, Skitzo, Dana likes what she hears but fears potential friction with husband Lord Jamar as he is adamant about her staying away from male artists. Kendell takes her feud with Kelly's to another level when she investigates Kelly and comes across questionable information. Meanwhile, Nakia plans a ten-year anniversary party for her fashion and lifestyle blog, StyleChile. Kelly gets an emergency call from her boss at Thesis Couture and must jet back to LA, putting Wendy's PSA shoot in jeopardy as she holds the permit needed to shoot the production! And when the rapper for the PSA also goes missing in action, desperate times calls for desperate measures and Kendell is forced to call Dana to get Lord Jamar to save the shoot, but may be a little too late to ask for any favors. After the PSA wraps, Nakia offers to play the PSA at her blog party and invites Wendy, Tiffany and Kendell. In the studio, Lord Jamar is shocked when he finds out that Dana will be pursuing a male rapper. Everyone is on edge wondering if Lord Jamar will give his approval or squash his wife's dreams. Wendy and Kendell get ready for Nakia's party, but when Wendy receives an urgent call from a friend that caught Nakia spreading rumors that Wendy slept her way to success...it's on!

