SPRING 2016 NEW PROGRAMMING BROCHURE

Nature & Wildlife History Science People & Culture
Lifestyle Travel & Adventure Feature Docs

Welcome to Off the Fence's spring 2016 Catalogue. With a diverse range of factual documentaries inside, we are sure you'll find something to entertain, educate and inspire you.

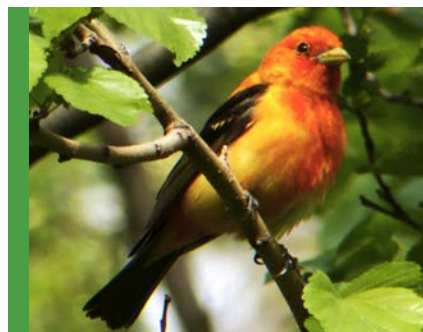

To pick just a few from our packed collection – Nature and Wildlife's Uncharted Amazon takes us deep into the jungles of Peru where we encounter a range of animals as they strive to cope with the ever changing conditions of the rainforest. In History, we go back to 1066 in Europe's Last Warrior Kings where a Viking, a Norman and a Saxon battle it out for the English Crown. Science uncovers why so many hundreds of planes crash in one of the most dangerous places to fly in Alaska's Air Crash Investigations. We are taken on a journey in People & Culture from Italy to Sweden with a group of Palestinians and Syrians in the award winning On the Bride's Side. In Lifestyle we watch the drama unfold as we follow a group of brash and gorgeous girls in Hot Grits. For Travel & Adventure we visit some of the world's most exotic places with a brand new series of Travel Bug and we unveil a huge selection of award winning Feature Documentaries. It's a big world out there, but we've got it covered!

Biomimicry: Biochemistry & BioGeometry

2 x 60'

Biomimicry is the science of borrowing nature's evolutionary adaptations and applying them to the human world. Natural blood thinners from bat saliva, anaesthetic from mosquitos, antibiotics in bee honeycomb, and cryogenic secrets from the blood of amphibians – there's a new world to discover, if you know how to look.

Birders: The Central Park Effect

1 x 60'

A diverse group of full-of-attitude New Yorkers reveals how a hidden world of beautiful wild birds in the middle of Manhattan has upended and magically transformed their lives.

Close to Death

1 x 60'

One of the oddest natural adaptations is super-deep sleep. These near-death experiences feature animals temporarily stopping their hearts and brains; hibernating for months at a time and employing a natural anti-freeze to keep their cells intact. But as we explore this natural time travel, we also discover that this lifestyle is not without risks.

Genera Doc Wildlife S.L. aka Alvaro Mendoza Productions

Europe's Largest Desert

1 x 60'

Near the cold Pyrenees of Iberia, surrounded by ancient and dark green forests, there is an odd land where the rain is so scarce and the wind is always blowing. The soil is poor, there are no trees and the landscape has become very much like the moon. This strange landscape is home to incredible creatures with surprising behaviours. We'll discover a place with a very dry surface but a wet hidden heart that allows even aquatic birds and amphibians to live. Living in such conditions is not easy and it's only the toughest animals that will survive.

Iberia's Natural Border

1 x 60'

Tagus International is a protected natural space shared by Spain and Portugal. Famed for the diversity of its animals and plants, it was declared Europe's first international park. We explore the ecological differences between the Spanish and Portuguese banks of the park, and witness the sight of animals crossing the River Tagus and mixing with those on the opposite bank.

Islands of Creation

1 x 60'

In the jungles of a remote archipelago in the South Pacific, biologist Albert Uy is attempting to do something Charles Darwin never could: catch evolution in the act of creating new species. But with the islands' resources being exploited and local wildlife at risk, it's a race against time to gather the evidence necessary before it's lost forever.

The Lembeh Strait Walking Fish

1 x 60'

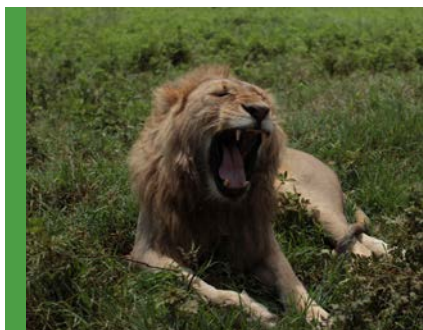

Whale sharks, manta rays and other big fish were once common in the narrow Lembeh Strait in Indonesia, but overfishing has long since eradicated the larger species. Now, a new community of unusual creatures make their home on the volcanic seabed. Stone fish, piper fish, cuttlefish, snails and mimic octopuses fight for space with the remarkably weird walking fish!

Life Stories: Sleeping for Life

1 x 60'

Sleep is as crucial as it is unexplored and unexplained. The range is vast: all living things sleep, but some for just a few seconds at a time, others for more than 90% of their lives. A six-eyed spider can stay still for months; snakes never close their eyes; dolphins even speak while sleeping. This is a truly eye-opening documentary.

Meet My Moose

1 x 60'

High up in Canada's Rocky Mountains, in a forest by a crystal-clear lake, a moose is born. Chances are against it surviving at the best of times but with North America's moose population in steep decline, this calf faces unique threats. Its first 30 days are the most perilous of its life. If it reaches three months, its chances for survival rise. At six months, its beaten the odds. But if this calf is lucky enough to become a yearling, it will face the biggest challenge yet: the instinctive wrath of the only creature that has ever protected and nurtured it — its own mother.

Wolverine: Ghost of the Northern Forest

1 x 60'

Wolverines are one of the least known and understood mammals in the Northern Hemisphere. These members of the weasel family are powerful and versatile carnivores with bad reputations. Whether eating live prey or carrion, the wolverine's feeding style appears voracious, leading to the nickname of "glutton". In reality very little is known about their lives, habits or social interactions. Elusive and shy they are the very embodiment of wilderness and wild places. In many parts of their range they are like phantoms - more mythological than real.

Europe's Last Warrior Kings

3 x 60'

A thousand years ago a Viking, a Norman, and a Saxon fought for glory – the crown of one small island on the edge of Europe. Within a single year, two would be killed in battle, leaving just one of them victorious... rich and powerful beyond his wildest dreams. Using the latest analysis of ancient documents, we reveal a story of lust for power and wealth, a fight for culture and belief, a tale of family feuds and betrayals that changed Europe. Military historian Dan Snow will be at the heart of the action travelling to the locations where the story happened – places like Caen, Norway, Stamford Bridge and Saint-Valery-Sur-Somme, along with Hastings and Westminster Abbey. Entering a world of Viking longboats and axe-wielding warriors he'll conduct key experiments to get to grips with supplies, transport and most importantly of all, weapons, to piece together this extraordinary story and bring a brutal ancient world to life in episodes of vivid drama.
